Reflection Homework 5:

- The layout of my product page and product detail page is quite complicated. It will be super complexed if I use flexbox and float properties to realize it. So instead, I used CSS grid - a hot new feature for CSS3, which helps layout content easily.
- To convey a constant brand identity, I used one accent color across the whole site. This color is used in buttons and navigation bar.